

Artist Study: Heather Galler

Start off by sketching out a hot chocolate mug in the center of a square piece of paper.

Add a table line. The higher up the table line the more table you will see. The closer your table line is to the bottom, the less table you will see.

Draw patterns in the background and on the table. We have discussed various line types in class before. Think about the different kinds of patterns you can make. You can also google some ideas if you like.

Afterwards outline all your pencil lines using a black marker or pencil crayon.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AwlnU7Yxnao>

